TED 6901 Research Results, Implications

Directions

The culminating product due in this course is the paper reporting the research results or findings, and conclusion and educational implications of the research. The rubric pertains to these sections of the research paper.